

In the interest of time and expense this index was created by using a computer program. Unfortunately, the program does not care whether a particular word is a surname, or a first name, or a middle name. Consequently, there will be instances where a name, such as "Allen," will be identified as being on a page but will be used only as a first or middle name in that instance. We have endeavored to delete those occurrences, but, due to human limitations and time, some will remain. Likewise, there will be a few omissions. For these we apologize. If a name you expected to find is not in the listing, try looking for a related name which you would expect to be in the same story.
